Liability of the Flight 4.
Operator and Organizer

The Flight Operator or Organizer from whom the passenger received the service (even if there is no agreement between it and the passenger) will be viewed executing, on behalf of the party with whom the passenger contracted, the duties imposed under this Law.

Refusal to Fly a
Passenger on a Flight

5. (a) A Flight Operator or Organizer refusing to fly a passenger for whom a Flight Ticket has been issued, including due to overbooking, will initially turn to the passengers registered on the flight and will check if there is a passenger amongst them who is prepared to waive his place on the flight for consideration which will be agreed upon between that passenger and the Flight Operator or Organizer; in this Sub Section, "overbooking" - registration of ordered places on an aircraft, which the Flight Operator, Organizer or anyone on their behalf has approved, in a number which is greater than the capacity for the aircraft.

(b) A passenger for whom the Flight Operator or Organizer has refused to fly him and has not agreed to waive his place on the flight for the agreed consideration as stated in Sub Section (a), is entitled to receive Assistance Services and monetary compensation from the Flight Operator or Organizer as stated in the First Schedule, and, at the election of the passenger - reimbursement of the consideration or a Replacement Flight Ticket.

{c) Notwithstanding that stated in Sub Section (b), where a Flight Operator or Organizer who has offered a passenger a Replacement Flight Ticket and the passenger has accepted this offer, it may reduce, by half, the amount of monetary compensation to which the passenger is entitled under the provisions of that Sub Section, save for the circumstances as stated in Section 6(d), provided that the delay in the landing time at the Final Destination of the passenger, compared with the original landing time at the same destination, is as detailed below:

(1) up to four hours - if the flight distance is not more than 2,000 km;

(2) up to five hours - if the flight distance is longer than 2,000 km and is not longer than 4,500 km;

(3) up to six hours - if the flight distance is longer than 4,500 km.

(d) The provisions of this Section will not apply if, for security reasons, due to the state of health of a passenger or due to concern of harm to flight safety, the passenger cannot be flown on the flight, or if the passenger does not have the appropriate travel documents.

(e) Notwithstanding the provisions of Sub Section (d), a passenger will be entitled to receive, from the Flight Operator or Organizer who has refused to fly him due to the said security concerns as stated in that Sub Section, monetary compensation in accordance with Sub Section (b), provided that all of the following prevail:

(1) he has come to the airport at least three hours before the take-off time stipulated in the Flight Ticket or at the planned time of the flight;

(2) he has cooperated in the security check conducted for him and at the end of the check it has been found that he can go onto the flight;

(3) his travel documents are in order.

A Canceled Flight 6.

(a) A passenger for whom a Flight Ticket has been issued which has been canceled, will be entitled to receive the following Benefits from the Flight Operator or Organizer:

(1) Assistance Services;

(2) reimbursement of the consideration or a Replacement Flight Ticket, at the election of the passenger;

(3) monetary compensation as stated in the First Schedule.

(b) A Flight Operator or Organizer who has offered a passenger a Replacement Flight Ticket as stated in Sub Section (a)(2), and the passenger has accepted this offer, may reduce, by half, the amount of the monetary compensation to which the passenger is entitled under the provisions of Sub Section (a)(3), provided that the delay in the landing time at the Final Destination of the passenger, compared with the original landing time at that destination, is as detailed below:

- (1) up to two hours - if the flight is at a distance which is not longer than 2,000 km;
- (2) up to three hours - if the flight is at a distance which is not longer than 4,500 km;
- (3) up to four hours - if the flight is at a distance which is longer than 4,500 km.

(c) Notwithstanding the above-said In Sub Section (a), a passenger whose flight has been canceled will not be entitled to monetary compensation as stated In the First Schedule, If the Flight Operator or Organizer has proved that the passenger received, from the Flight Operator, Organizer or from the Travel Agency Service Provider, notice of -

- (1) at least 14 days before the date of the flight stipulated in the Flight Ticket;
- (2) between seven to 14 days before the time of the flight stipulated on the Flight Ticket, and the Flight Operator or Organizer offered him an alternative flight for which the take-off time is at most two hours before the flight time stipulated in the original Flight Ticket, and the landing time at the Final Destination is no later than four hours after the original time for landing at the same destination;

(3) at least seven days before the time of the flight stipulated in the Flight Ticket, and the Flight Operator or Organizer has offered him an alternative flight for which the take-off time is at most one hour before the time stipulated in the original Flight Ticket, and the landing time at the Final Destination is no later than two hours after the original landing time at that destination.

(d) The provisions of Sub Section (c) will not apply if the passenger has refused to fly on the alternative flight which has been offered to him because the offer was not given to a person joining him on the flight in accordance with the passenger's notice. or because the passenger is unable to fly on the alternative flight for reasons of security, religion or medical limitations.

(e) Without derogating from the provisions of Sub Section (c), a passenger whose flight has been canceled will not be entitled to monetary compensation as stated in the First Schedule, if the Flight Operator or Organizer has proven that one of the following prevails:

(1) the flight has been canceled due to special circumstances which were not under its control, and even if It would have done whatever was under its control - it could not have prevented the cancelation due to those circumstances;

(2) the flight was canceled due to a strike or a protected work-by-rule strike;

(3) the flight has been canceled in order to prevent the desecration of the Sabbath or a (Jewish) holiday.

(f) A Flight Operator or Organizer notifying a customer on the cancelation of a flight will present alternatives to the passenger for arrival at the Final Destination.

(g) The onus of proof regarding the giving of the notice to the passenger about the flight which has been canceled shall apply to the Flight Operator or Organizer.

(h) The Minister, with the consent of the Minister of Industry, Trade and Labor, may increase or reduce the number of hours stipulated in the definition of a "canceled flight", provided that he does not change the number of hours by more than four hours compared with the above-stipulated number; where the Minister has reduced the number of hours, adjustment provisions will be determined in the matter of the Benefits for a flight which has taken off late.

A Flight Which Has 7.
Taken Off Late

(a) A passenger for whom a Flight Ticket has been issued for a flight which has taken off late by at least two hours after the time stipulated in the Flight Ticket, will be entitled to receive, from the Flight Operator or Organizer, Food and Drink and Communication Services.

(b) Without derogating from the provisions of Sub Section (a), a passenger who has been issued a Flight Ticket for a flight which has taken off late by five hours and less than eight hours after the time stipulated in the Flight Ticket, shall be entitled to a reimbursement of the consideration or to an Replacement Flight Ticket, at his election; a passenger who has been offered a Replacement Flight Ticket for a flight which is supposed to take off on the following date, and has chosen to accept it, shall be entitled to also receive Accommodation Service and Travel Services; however, if a flight has taken off late as stated due to a strike or a protected go-slow strike, the passenger will be entitled to the reimbursement of the consideration and Food and Drink and Communication Services only.

A Flight for Which the Take-off Time
Has Been Brought Forward

8. (a) A passenger for whom a Flight Ticket has been issued for a flight for which the take-off time has been brought forward by more than five hours and not more than eight hours, and has received notice of such from the Flight Operator, Organizer or from the Travel Agency Service Provider less than 14 days before the flight time stipulated in the Flight Ticket, will be entitled to a reimbursement of the consideration or a Replacement Flight Ticket, at the election of the passenger.

(b) A passenger for whom a Flight Ticket has been issued for a flight for which the take-off time has been brought forward by more than eight hours, and has received notice of such as stated In Sub Section (a), will be entitled to the following Benefits:

(1) monetary compensation as stated in the First Schedule, save for the circumstances stated in Section 6(e)(1) and (2):

(2) the reimbursement of the consideration or Replacement Flight Ticket, at his election.

Change to the Conditions of the Flight Ticket

9. (a) Where the Flight Operator or Organizer has decided on the transfer of a passenger to a class at a higher level than that stipulated In the Flight Ticket issued to him, the passenger will not demand additional payment for the said transfer.

(b) Where the Flight Operator or Organizer has decided on the transfer of a passenger to a class which is a lower level than that stipulated in the Flight Ticket issued to him, it will pay the passenger monetary compensation for the change to the terms of the Flight Ticket, as stated in the Second Schedule, in an amount which will be calculated as a rate of the Flight Ticket paid by the passenger, and if the flight includes a Stopover - in an amount equivalent to the price paid for the Flight Ticket, multiplied by the ratio between flight distance in which the passenger was transferred to a lower class, as stated, and the total flight distance; where the Flight Ticket has been purchased as part of a Tourist Package - the Flight Ticket price will be calculated, for the purposes of this Sub Section, in accordance with the provisions of Section 3(b)(3).

The Issuing of a
Flight Ticket for a Flight for Which the Time Has Not Been Confirmed In Advance

10. (a) A Flight Operator, Organizer or anyone who has agreed to such, will not issue the passenger with a Flight Ticket for which the time of the flight stipulated in it is not a time which the Airport Authority has approved in advance and, as a result of such, the flight was not supposed to take off at the said stipulated time, unless-
